Product Description

Burromax Electric Mini Bike, TT350R

The Burromax TT350R is used by kids and adults up to 180lb on flat ground and great for riders under 145lb for off-roading. We see bikes going to all types of racers who need a pit bike, campers, events where people need a ride from here to there, ride for the lake house, around the neighborhood, going fishing, walking the dog and so many other uses! Kids love these things too by the way! Bikes fit into the trunk of almost any car and weight in at 47lb so they are really easy to take with you

No gas-No smell-No Heat-Low maintenance easy to operate and almost no noise.

Why buy a Burromax TT350R Mini Bike? Quality, with lots of features, at a fair price is number one! Try this before you buy the ultra cheap box store brands or the ultra expensive dealership models. We like to say we sell joy and happiness at a fair price--Here are a few more reasons to take one home.

Features:

- Much cooler looking bikes with hydro dipped carbon fiber colors
- Expect 14 mile range with 180 lb rider and 20 mile plus with 100 lb riders on flat ground wide open. Heavy riders need hard relatively flat surface and lighter riders can go about anywhere. Hill will burn up battery ride time
- Faster charging, full charge in 3 to 3.5 hours and partial charging is OK
- Lithium Ion Battery Performance! If you own a drill with one in it, enough said. A large part of the cost of this bike is the battery cost and they are better in many ways than any lead acid battery bike
- Looks like a scaled down motorcycle down to the details-not a plastic toy
- 2 Speed modes with hidden switch for 8 or 17 mph. You choose for skills
- Full suspension that works
- Variable throttle speed controllers, others use on off throttle
- Disc Brake
- We tell you the True motor size our TT350R is 350W, others state 350 or 400 and give you a 250W motor. If you are looking for that, look at our TT250
- Upgradeable performance and accessories

The Burromax TT350R is not street legal and intended for off-road use only.
